

Her Evidence Stuns Court

"THIS IS THE MAN!" said Mrs. Jane Gibson, "pig woman," tapping Henry Carpenter on the shoulder and positively identifying him as the "man in gray" she saw under the crabapple tree on the old Philips farm with Mrs. Frances Hall. Mrs. Gibson's statement electrified the courtroom at the arraignment of Carpenter, Mrs. Hall's favorite cousin, and Willie Stevens, her brother, charged with the double murder. (Graphic.)

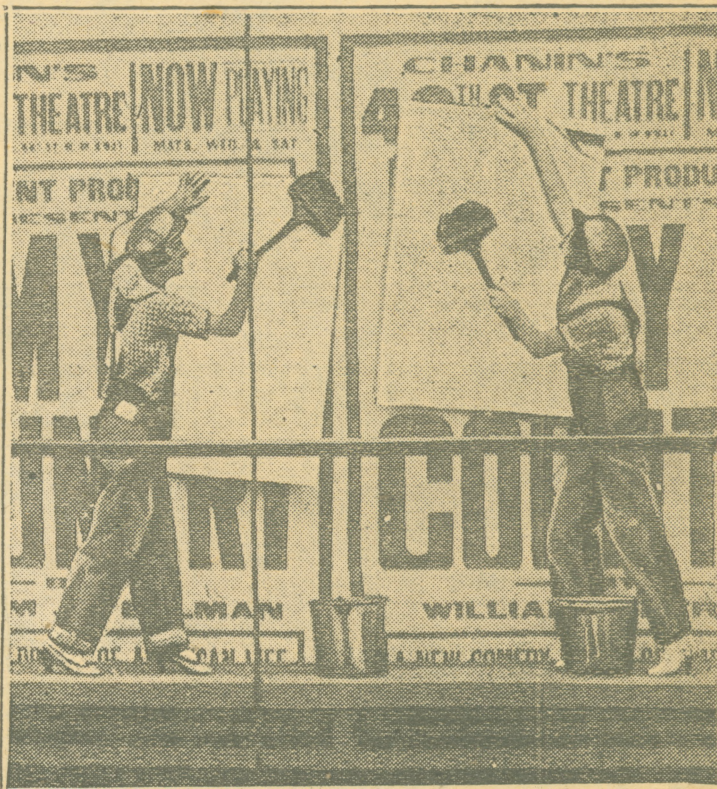

3 Prize Beauties at Baby Show

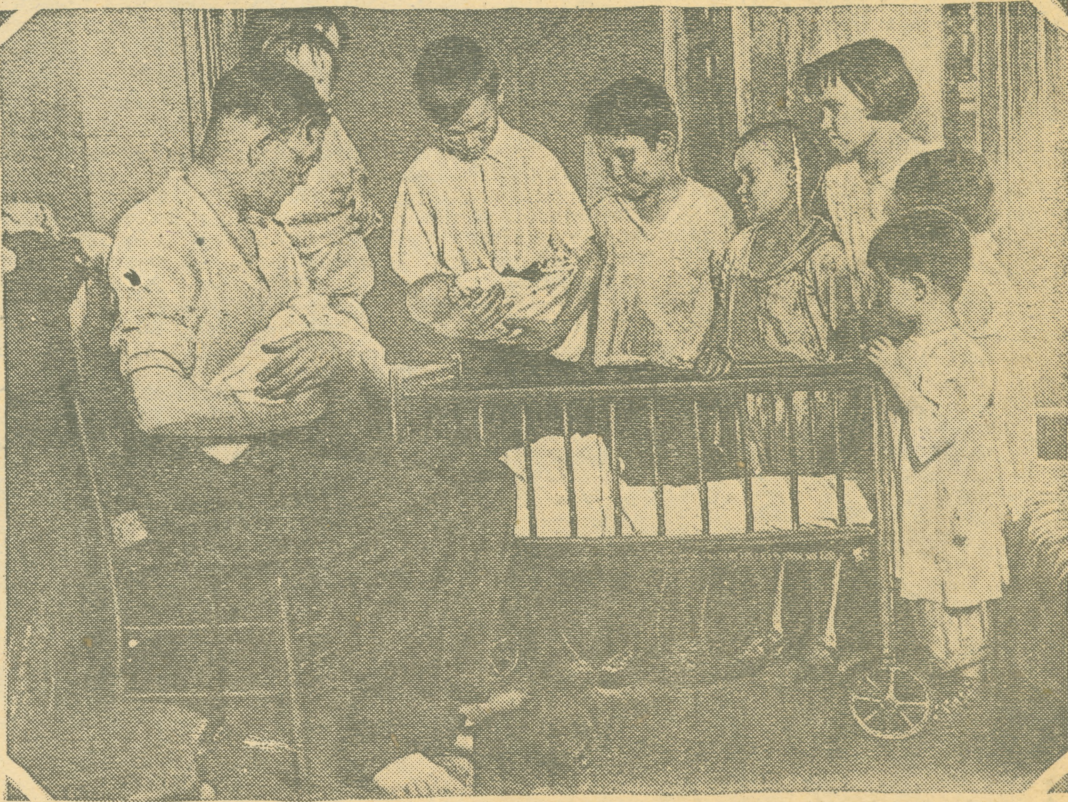

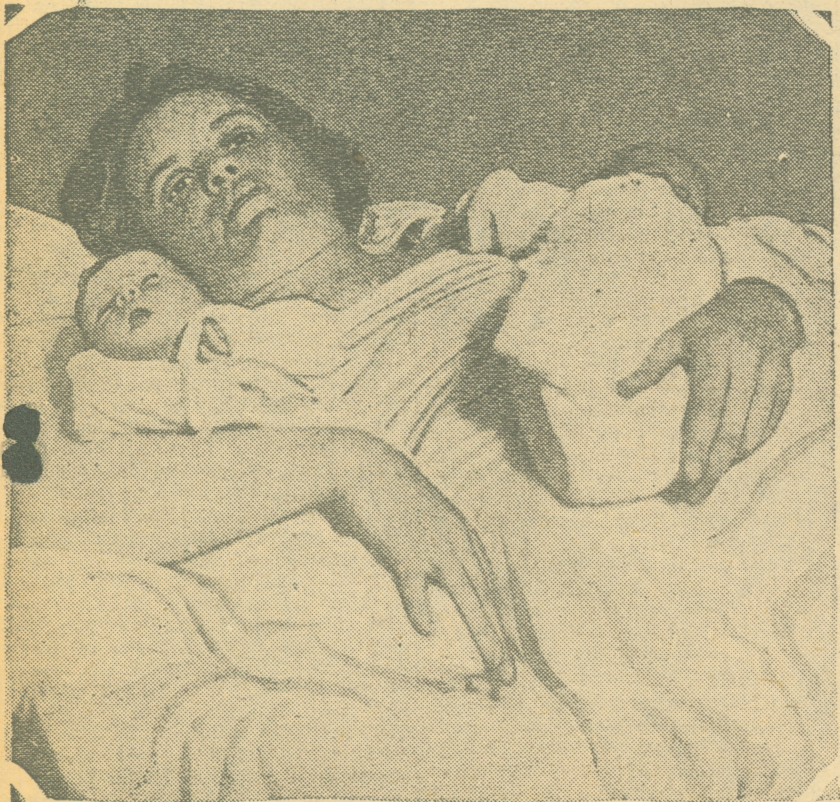

ALL BEAUTIES! Judges at the annual baby contest held at Public School 88, at Vandervoort and Stevens Street, Brooklyn, voted Margaret Weber (left) the best all-around baby. Josephine Margalione (center) second and Louis Kare third. (Graphic.)

FLOGGERS SAFE! Philip Elliott and Richard Thorne, accused of taking Violet Anderson (above) to a lonely wood, stripping her and then lashing her are safe in Canada.

HOLDING UP TRAFFIC! Human bill posters, that's what Broadway decided Ruth and Gayle Moore of the "Passions of 1926" were when throngs saw them keeping fit for their dances by this new method. Good stunt, eh? (Photo Graphic.)

AND THEN THERE WERE TEN! Twins were born to Mr. and Mrs. John Gorman of Jersey City yesterday, and, added to the eight children already there, make ten. Don't they? Photo (left) shows Mrs. Gorman and the twins, and (right) the family is extending greetings to the newcomers. (Photo Graphic.)
